What is Family Group Decision-Making?

- Family Group Decision-Making (FGDM) is a strengths-based approach which is designed to empower families to make a safe plan when there are concerns about a child or young person (CYP).
- It is a structured process that leads to a Family Group Meeting; helping families to identify their own strengths and solutions.
- FGDM creates an environment where young people and their family's voices are heard; it enables families and their support network to make safe and unique plans by working together.
- The process is led by an independent co-ordinator who is not involved in any statutory decision-making or case holding. Their role is to prepare the CYP, their family and extended network to come together to make a family plan. The co-ordinator is available to the family and the referrer throughout the process.
- FGDM is highly recommended as an early intervention where statutory processes may be required.

- FGDM can run alongside statutory processes and can help families to prepare a plan in advance of a LAC Review, CPCC and Children's Hearings. It has been proven to even help families divert from the Children's Hearing system.
- FGDM is entirely voluntary. Referrers must seek a family's consent and approval before referring to the service.

Why FGDM?

- Article 12 of The Children and Young People (Scotland) Act 2014 names FGDM as a relevant service which Local Authorities must provide to families.
- Scotland's children and young people have told us that they feel special when their families come together to listen to them.
- Families are experts on themselves and are often the best people to make plans for their CYP.
- FGDM is blame-free and future-focussed; it is an opportunity to repair fractured family relationships, to improve and grow a CYP's network of support.

Aims:

"Where children are safe in their families and feel loved they must stay"

The Promise, page 6

- FGDM aims to put CYP and their families at the heart of the decision-making process, listen to their views, experiences and hopes.
- FGDM aims to provide early and effective support services to prevent children and young people unnecessarily entering the formal care system.
- FGDM ensures whole family support, enabling families to overcome the difficulties that get in the way of them keeping their family together.

When to refer?

- When a CYP and their family need a plan for support or a decision which involves practical partnership between family members and professionals.
- Where the CYP may be referred to the reporter.
- Where a family plan is needed in relation to the CYP's safety and protection.
- Where the CYP may be accommodated.
